Can existing emergency procedures be observed	Staff members, members of the public and emergency services	Due to the configuration of the office, and the limited personnel in the office at any one time, no disruption to emergency procedures is anticipated. In an emergency, such as a fire, staff do not have to observe social distancing if it would be unsafe as per government guidance. People involved in the provision of assistance to others should pay particular attention to sanitation measures immediately afterward i.e. washing hands for a minimum of 20 seconds	1			X	5	X			5
